You know the story—how good Queen Bess, pointing to the beautiful hair of a peasant girl, said, "There's a golden one for it." That was long ago. Now you can have a "real royal crown" of your own, simply by using Ayer's Hair Vigor. It makes the hair grow thick and long and stops it falling out.

When your hair is rich and heavy, and when the closest inspection fails to detect a single gray hair, you will certainly look a great deal younger, and you will be much better satisfied with yourself, too. Isn't that so?

HORRIBLE SCENES IN LIAOYANG CITY

SUFFERING AMONG THE CHINESE VERY GREAT—THE JAPANESE HAVE RAISED THE RUSSIAN CRIBBER VARIETY—NO ONE ALLOWED TO LEAVE PORT ARTHUR NOW AND EVEN FOREIGN ATTACHES MUST REMAIN TO THE END

The Newchwang correspondent of the China Times, writing on the 15th ult., says:

The fact that a refuge for wounded and homeless Chinese had been established in Liaoyang has been known for some time. Could the walls of that refuge speak, what a tale they would unfold! Writing on the 20th August, Dr. Westwater tells of wounded men and women, who having been kindly bandaged by the Russians, crawled into the city, the name of whose refuge and hospital had gone abroad. In the refuge the women's room was a sight to behold, with infants and little bairns. "I have forty babies on my hands," wrote the doctor; and he added, "What I shall do tomorrow I don't know." I am not surprised at the remark!

The state of the wounded was too horrible for words, as several with blood and soot and debris of the bang they lodged into the compound. Since then this stream of wounded humanity has continued to pour in. On the 12th September the refuge had overflowed its walls and numbered among its inmates 5450 women and children, while in the hospital 270 wounded were being tended.

On Saturday, September 10th, General Fukushima called on Dr. Westwater and accompanied him to the hospital and refuge. He was deeply interested and thanked him cordially for all he had done, and expressed his regret that so much distress had been caused to the Chinese during the recent operations. He along with his Surgeon-General carefully inspected both institutions and offered any assistance in his power. The following day he repeated his visit, enquiring for the wounded in the name of the Commander-in-Chief, and also conveying from him a donation of $1000 towards the hospital funds. This gift was announced to the patients, with the kindly greeting that accompanied it.

Leaving the hospital, the General went with Dr. Westwater to the refuge. Its inmates were assembled in the compound, and the General expressed his own and his chief's sympathy with their homeless condition, and presented $1000 to this branch of the work also.

"It was a wonderful sight," writes the doctor, "to see the women and bairns bowing and kowtowing their thanks and begging the General to arrange for their speedy return home!" In the East as in the West it would seem that home is best, and such a touch of nature "makes the whole world kin." The generosity of the Commander-in-Chief of the Japanese Army and his great anxiety for the welfare of the Chinese deserve to be publicly acknowledged.

Order has now been completely restored at Dalian. All the streets have been renamed according to the names of distinguished soldiers at the front in token of their services. The city can not yet be freely visited by other persons than those employed in military service. The Chinese are quietly carrying on business and are much patronized by the Japanese. There are several Chinese hotels open.

The captain of a steamer, which arrived at Chefoo on the 26th via the Mikahala group, states that he heard an extraordinary report of an explosion about 9 o'clock that morning in the direction of Port Arthur, and some of the steamer's port holes were damaged. The Captain thinks the report was occasioned by the blowing up of a warship by a mine or the explosion of a magazine or a warship at Port Arthur.

It is telegraphed from Wonsan that some 40 Cossacks effected a reconnaissance in the vicinity of Ko-on, Hamgyong Province, Korea, on the 26th inst, and withdrew to the west on the following day.

The Varyag is reported to have been raised on the 27th. After temporary repairs she will be towed to Japan from Chemulpo.

Half a dozen Russian prisoners, including two officers, arrived at Matsuyama on the 27th. Two Russian lieutenants and 12 men captured in the Port Arthur direction were brought to Moji on the same day together with five machine guns. Three Japanese guns, which were recently damaged by Russian shells in a certain direction, also arrived there on the way to Tokyo where they will be arranged in a gallery of the Imperial Castle.

A certain missionary reports to Shanghai that he has lately noticed 250 wagons being sent by the Russians from

BRITISH CELEBRATION.

British subjects in Honolulu have not yet decided how they will celebrate the birthday of King Edward VII which falls on November 9. The present indecision seems to arise from uncertainty as to the arrival of H. M. S. Grafton, flagship of the British North Pacific squadron which was ordered south from Esquimaux, B. C. The rumored appearance of Russian cruisers in northern waters doubtless kept her at her station for the time being. It has now been announced unofficially that the flagship will be here "early next month" so that in the possibility of her being in port on the 9th arrangements for the celebration are pending.

TO RUN THE BLOCKADE.

Captain Harry Struve, formerly master of the transport Hancock, is understood to have been employed by a Chinese combination to handle blockade runners to Port Arthur.

A SIGN FROM THE FAITHFUL.

A Chinese newspaper published at Shanghai gives the following reasons why Russia has so far been defeated by Japan: The emperor was deceived by his advisers and their bragging; the commanders had made no war plan; the ambassador in Tokio failed to give the government sufficient notice of the Japanese preparations for war; corruption in the army and navy; adulteration of food and ammunition; quarrels among the officers; failure of the press to enlighten the public as to the true state of affairs.

Nearly 70 years ago John Wesley Johnson was kidnapped by the Indians, when a small child, while playing with his brothers and sisters upon the site of the present Boston and Maine station at Biddeford. While he was a captive, and supposed by his family to have been drowned, a half-brother was born, who was also named John W. It was a strange coincidence that the latter, after living many years in the South, should die at the Biddeford station, upon practically the same spot from which his half-brother had been kidnapped some 70 years ago.—Lewiston (Me.)
